Tokyu Fudosan Holdings Corporation

Tokyu Fudosan Holdings selected for fourteen consecutive years in total as a constituent stock of the “FTSE4Good Index Series” ESG investment index

-Obtained score of 4.6, ranking 4th domestically across all business categories-

Tokyu Fudosan Holdings Corporation (Headquarters: Shibuya-ku, Tokyo; President & CEO: Hironori Nishikawa; “Tokyu Fudosan Holdings” below) hereby announces that it was selected again as a constituent stock of the FTSE4Good Index Series, a global ESG investment index, for the 14th consecutive year*¹ since 2010.

Out of the Japanese companies that were selected as a constituent stock this time, Tokyu Fudosan Holdings’ score of 4.6 places it (and two other companies) fourth behind three companies given the highest score of 4.7 and first in the domestic real estate industry. Tokyu Fudosan Holdings sees this result as a recognition of the ESG efforts that it has focused on up to this point and its strategies and business activities based on its basic policies of environmental management and Digital Transformation (DX).

*1: Tokyu Land Corporation was selected for inclusion for four straight years between 2010 and 2013. Following its establishment, Tokyu Fudosan Holdings was selected for inclusion for ten straight years between 2014 and 2023

■ About FTSE Russell

A wholly-owned subsidiary of the London Stock Exchange Group that was established in 1995, FTSE Russell calculates various ESG indices that use ESG and climate change data in addition to numerous global indices on the likes of stocks and bonds and provides a myriad of information and analysis to institutional investors. FTSE4Good Index Series is an index developed by FTSE Russell that is configured by evaluating the sustainability of major enterprises around the world from the three aspects of “Environment,” “Social” and “Governance” and selecting enterprises that show overall excellence in those aspects for inclusion in that index.

Additionally, Tokyu Fudosan Holdings was also recently selected for inclusion in the FTSE Blossom Japan Index for the sixth consecutive year as well as the FTSE Blossom Japan Sector Relative Index. The Government Pension Investment Fund (GPIF) started adopting these indices as benchmarks in ESG investment; the former from 2017 and the latter from March 2022.

Tokyu Fudosan Holdings Group (“the Group”) sees the above selection of Tokyu Fudosan Holdings as the result of its being recognized as a company whose efforts aimed at management issues pertaining to ESG hold the promise of enabling it to grow sustainably heading into the future. With “Addressing social issues through its businesses” espoused as part of the long-term management policy, GROUP VISION 2030 as well, the Group will continue to achieve the sustainable growth and increase the long-term corporate value.
